

INTERNATIONAL BALLET EXCHANGE presents

The Four Seasons

a ballet to the music of Antonio Vivaldi

Wednesday, May 30, 2018, 10:15-11:30 a.m.

Northeast High School

1601 Cottman Ave, Philadelphia, PA 19111

Free!

This fully staged ballet interprets the passage of the seasons through the Greek myth of Persephone, whose annual journey to and from the Underworld marks the passage of spring, summer, fall, and winter. The Four Seasons provides a wonderful context for studying science (why do we have seasons?), ecology, language arts, geography, and more.

With guest artists and a youth cast from Wissahickon Dance Academy in Germantown, Northeast High School, Blaine Elementary School, and Willard Elementary School, the ballet is performed exclusively for the students of the Philadelphia schools. All educators will receive a free guide to the ballet with pre- and post-performance activities designed deepen students' experience of this living art.

Book now! Email this form to internationalballet@verizon.net; fax to 215-849-3117; or call Elaine Cohen at 215-694-4564

School name: _____

School address: _____

Primary contact: _____

Phone: _____ email: _____

Number of students: _____

Additional teachers' names and e-mail addresses:

Number of chaperones _____ (max 2 per class)

*Schools must arrange their own busing to/from the performance
Please ensure that your students arrive and are seated by 10 a.m.*

International Ballet Exchange
38 E. School House Lane, Philadelphia PA 19144
215-849-7950; internationalballet@verizon.net
www.internationalballet.org

IBE has been bringing great ballet to the Philadelphia public schools through its unique program of in-school ballet lessons and performances since 1988.